ONE OF THE highly discussed topics in Ohio and throughout the nation today is what to do with the so-called tidal wave of students which is already appearing on the nation's campuses and which is expected to double in less than ten years.

President Eisenhower's Committee on Education Beyond High School has, among other things, recommended detailed study of the problem on a state level. The Ohio Commission, headed by Ohio University's President John C. Baker, is just a few months old but already the program is well underway to provide future legislative recommendations.

It is now quite evident that branch colleges, like those operated by Ohio University since 1946, will play an important role in meeting higher education needs. And it is for this reason that President Baker recently invited Ohio Governor C. William O'Neill to inspect the Ohio University Branch at Zanesville to get a first hand view of a branch operation.

Other branches under the direction of Dean Albert C. Gubitz are located in Chillicothe, Ironton, Lancaster, and Portsmouth. A new branch will open in Martins Ferry next September.

During a dinner meeting with local business and educational leaders at the Zanesville Country Club, prior to the inspection, the Governor spoke of the Ohio Commission on Education Beyond High School, remarking that "Dr. Baker is the only man in Ohio capable of meeting the challenge and getting the job done."

"Present facilities are not prepared to meet the projected census increase," he said, "and Branches are a key to the problem."

Originally established to ease the World War II veteran enrollment, the branches have now become essential off-campus colleges. Classes are held in high school buildings of the branch cities during the late afternoon and evening hours. Qualified students and adults seeking a college education are thus afforded an opportunity to live at home, work full or part-time, and earn two full years of college credit in the fields of liberal arts, education, and commerce. They can earn one year of credit in the areas of engineering and fine arts.

The teaching staff for the branches is drawn from the faculties of Ohio University and neighboring colleges, as well as from industry, the professions, and local high school faculties.

Some 1300 students are currently enrolled in the branch colleges of the five cities. More than 9000 have received training since the inception of the branch program in 1946.

There is little doubt that the enrollment problem will be solved. And after visiting classrooms, talking with students, and seeing a branch in full operation, Governor O'Neill expressed confidence that the Ohio enrollment budge will be partially solved by branch colleges.

BRANCH INSTRUCTOR and Mr. Miracle introduce Governor O'Neill and Dean Gubitz to members of a branch class at the high school building.

Commencement

A GRADUATION class of 713 students heard Ohio Governor C. William O'Neill tell of the need for young college graduates in government, at Commencement exercises on the College Green June 9.

Governor O'Neill, in his Commencement address, spoke of Ohio's "increase in population, her attractiveness to new industry and the expansion of old, her great natural resources and her strategic location," reminding the graduating seniors that such expansion increases the need for men and women of character, ability and loyalty.

Included in the graduation class were 455 men and 258 women. Bachelor's degrees numbered 673, master's degrees 32, and two-year associate in arts diplomas 40.

Bachelor's degrees, divided according to colleges, were Commerce, 174; Education, 162; Arts and Sciences, 132; Applied Science, 98; Fine Arts, 75.

In a previously unannounced ceremony, honorary doctorates were presented to Governor O'Neill, John W. Galbreath and Dr. Hiram Roy Wilson. The governor and Mr. Galbreath were presented honorary doctor of laws degrees and Dr. Wilson received the honorary degree of doctor of letters.

The 1957 graduation class represented the fourth largest in the history of Ohio University. Largest was 1950 with 898 degrees, followed by 1951 with 761 degrees and 1949 with 734.

In the morning the graduation class attended baccalaureate services in Alumni Memorial Auditorium. The Rev. George E. Johnson, pastor of The Community Church at Vero Beach, Florida gave the baccalaureate sermon. He is the son of Ohio University Trustee Fred H. Johnson and the brother of Betsy Johnson, one of the graduating seniors.

In addition to their degrees, 51 men received commissions in the Army and 21 were commissioned in the Air Force. Twenty were cited for distinguished records as undergraduate cadets.

On the Friday preceding Commencement the Ohio University Board of Trustees elected Mr. Galbreath chairman of the group, succeeding Harvey B. Jordan. Announcement also was made of plans for the beginning of construction on life-science and education buildings by this fall.

Alumni Day

MEMBERS of nine reunion classes were welcomed back to the campus with several special Alumni Day events during Commencement Week-end.

Heading the list of events was the traditional Alumni Luncheon held on Saturday, June 8, at the University Center Ballroom. Edwin L. Kennedy, national president of the Alumni Association presided over the luncheon program and Alumni Secretary Martin L. Hecht served as master of ceremonies.

Past presidents of the association were introduced by Russell P. Herrold, '16, a member of the board of directors and former association president. Another past president, George M. Brown, '31, introduced previous recipients of the certificate of merit.

Four other members of the board of directors next took part in the luncheon program. They were Ralf C. Kircher, '29, who introduced honorary members of the association; Dr. Rush Elliott, '24, who presented professors emeriti; Marlette C. Covert, '29, who introduced retiring professors; and William F. Fenzel, '18, who introduced university guests.

Two surprise awards were made during the program. The first was a presentation of two $2500 perpetual scholarships in the name of Dr. Rush Elliott. The presentation, made by Dr. Charles W. Stertzbach, '37, of Youngstown, climaxed a fund drive started in 1954 by 42 physicians who studied premed under Dr. Elliott.

The second unannounced part of the program was of a plaque presentation to President John C. Baker. The plaque was presented to Dr. Baker by Fred H. Johnson, '22, (see cover) for leadership in higher education and international relations.

President Baker then gave the featured address of the program, a report on affairs of the university. In his talk the president referred to four groups which he said make up the university "team." They are the faculty, students, administrators and alumni.

Following the president's address was the annual presentation of certificates of merit to members of the alumni association who have distinguished themselves in various ways (page 10). Grosvenor S. McKee, '16, a member of the board, past president of the association and holder of a certificate of merit, introduced this year's recipients.

Another highlight of the program was a humorous accounting of the "good old days" by J. F. Hawk, spokesman for the class of 1907, which was celebrating its 50th anniversary. Claude Chrisman, '32, was spokesman for the 25th anniversary year group, and Dean Honsberger represented the association's newest members, the class of 1957.

Ten members of the faculty were cited by the graduating senior class for "outstanding contributions" during the development of students" during the past four years. They are Ralph F. Beckert, Dr. A. T. Volwiler, Dr. Stanley H. Huntsman, Dr. Carl G. Gustavson, Dr. Thomas S. Smith, Allyne Bane, Dr. L. C. Staats, Dr. William C. Stehr, Dr.

SILVER PLATED SHOVEL is surprise gift to John W. Galbreath, '20. Presentation was made at president's home by Brandon T. Grover, right. The shovel was the one used by Mr. Galbreath in ground breaking ceremonies for the Helen Mauck Galbreath Memorial Chapel.

DR. RUSH ELLIOTT expresses appreciation for scholarships established in his name by a group of former students, now engaged in the practice of medicine.

REPRESENTATIVE of oldest reunion class, J. F. Hawk of Petrolio, Pennsylvania, recalls life in the good old days when his 1907 class graduated from OU.

Paul Kendall and Dr. John F. Cady.

Two outstanding seniors also were chosen. They are Billie Howe, of Centerville, and Rose Paulson, Elkhart, Indiana.

During the business meeting that followed three alumni were elected to the board of directors. Walter Shapter, Jr., of Columbus; William Keplinger, San Francisco; and John A. Logan, Washington, D.C., were named to succeed Laurance Keller, F. M. Rhoten and Stanley Dougan. Darrell A. Grove, Pittsburgh, was re-elected after serving only part of a regular term.

Peter F. Good, '26, served as chairman of the nominating committee and Dwight H. Rutherford, '26, was chairman of elections.

Laurance D. Keller, '22, explained the Honor Membership Plan to those attending the luncheon, urging continued interest in the drive for memberships.

James Lochary, '52, presented three vocal solos. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Chester Marquis, Presbyterian student pastor at OU.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dickerson of Plattsburg, Ohio, attended the annual affair for the 32nd consecutive year.

Although rain threatened during the afternoon, the weather cleared for the traditional Alumni Supper under the elms Saturday evening. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Ohio University Commencement band under the capable direction of Charles Minelli.

COMMENCEMENT SUPPER draws large crowd of alumni, graduating seniors and guests to the College Green. Ohio University band members furnished music for the affair.

Recognition for Attainments

EACH year the Ohio University Alumni Association honors several alumni who have either achieved distinction in various fields of endeavor or demonstrated a loyal and active interest in their alma mater. The recognition is in the form of a Certificate of Merit, awarded at the annual Alumni Luncheon in June.

Most persons receiving certificates could qualify in either classification. For those honored on the basis of distinguished attainments, however, the certificate reads: "The officers and executive committee of the Ohio University Alumni Association award this Certificate of Merit to . . . in recognition of distinguished attainments in the field of . . . which reflect credit upon his (her) Alumni Association."

In the second instance, certificates are awarded "in recognition of a loyal interest in the welfare of his (her) Alma Mater and of services faithfully and effectively rendered to his (her) Alumni Association."

This year 13 alumni received certificates of merit. Their photographs and biographical sketches appear on the following four pages.

HENRY H. ECCLES, '15
Service to Alma Mater

A LEADER in social, athletic, religious, and student government affairs while an undergraduate, Henry H. Eccles has continued his services to Ohio University since his graduation.

For five years he was president of the alumni chapter at Portsmouth, Ohio, and for the past 15 years he has taken an active part in the affairs of the Cleveland Bobcat Club. During the sesquicentennial scholarship fund drive in 1954 he served as chairman of the Cuyahoga County campaign.

Mr. Eccles, who has been executive vice president and secretary of the Cleveland Association of Building Owners and Managers since 1944, started as a teacher and coach at Jackson (Ohio) High School. From there he went to Chillicothe, Wooster, Adams Mills, Miami County, and Portsmouth schools, before leaving school administration to enter the business field. He also became active in politics and government service, as well as returning for a while to high school administration, before accepting his present position.

FORREST W. HOPKINS, '36
Business and Journalism

THE DYNAMIC undergraduate record of Forest W. Hopkins gave an accurate indication of the career which was to follow. Editor of the Green and White and president of several social and class organizations at OU, he joined the editorial staff of the Zanesville Times Recorder after graduation.

The following year he went to the Pittsburgh Sun Telegram, and in 1939 he bought a weekly paper, the North East Breeze. Soon he was purchasing other interests and today the Breeze Publishing Company, of which he is owner, operates five newspapers and a shopper's guide. It also does job printing.

In addition, Mr. Hopkins owns the Hotel Concord in North East and the Gateway Stable of thoroughbred race horses. He is author of a new book, "The Russian Adventures of Marianna and Me", based on a tour of Russia on the invitation of the Russian government in 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins have six children, Jo Anne, Sally Lee, Nancy Lu, Philip Wayne, Susan Lynne, and Peggy Jane.

Thirteen Ohio University alumni receive Certificates of Merit for outstanding careers and continued support of alma mater

ALTHOUGH he planned to enter the field of business or law when he graduated from OU, Amos Kincaid was persuaded to become a high school principal at Peebles, Ohio. Two years later he was convinced that he wanted to remain in education, and today he has gained nation-wide recognition as a school administrator.

Although he established several notable programs at schools in Montpelier, Vermont, and Summit, New Jersey, Dr. Kincaid is best known for his leadership at Hempstead, New York, where he has came co-editor of Factory & Maintenance in 1949 and editor of that magazine the following year.

When McGraw-Hill acquired the Platt petroleum properties in 1953, he was named assistant publisher, and later publisher of all five petroleum publications. He also lectures on business news and presentation at the American Press Institute, Columbia University.

Mrs. Waddell is the former Eleanor Hazeltine, '32. They have two daughters, Nancy and Caroline.

DR. HOMER V. CHERRINGTON, '14
Higher Education

AFTER RETIRING from the faculty of Northwestern University, Homer V. Cherrington returned this year to Ohio University where he began his distinguished teaching career in 1917.

He received the A. M. degree from the University of Michigan and the Ph. D. from Harvard University before joining the OU faculty as a professor of English in 1917. Subsequent teaching assignments took him to Cornell, Iowa, and Northwestern, where he retired as a professor emeritus last year. He was persuaded to return to OU at the beginning of the past school year.

During his teaching career, Dr. Cherrington has been prominent as an author and consultant. In addition to writing two books and serving as co-editor of a third, he has been a regular contributor to periodicals. For some time he was an educational consultant to the Mortgage Bankers Association of America.

Mrs. Cherrington is the former Maria Grover, '17.

HOLLIE C. ELLIS, '20
Service to Alma Mater

WHEN Hollie C. Ellis graduated from Ohio University, he retained the same interest in his school that had made him an outstanding undergraduate leader. Beginning his career as a teacher in Toledo, he took it upon himself to encourage many students to attend his alma mater.

After he left the field of education to enter the building supply business, he continued to contact prospective OU students and both he and his wife, a Columbia University graduate, were active in alumni affairs. Mr. Ellis was president of the Toledo chapter for several years.

In 1944 Mr. and Mrs. Ellis moved to Lakeland, Michigan, where they had purchased a summer resort hotel on Zukey Lake. They operated the hotel until 1955 when they retired and moved to Bradenton Beach, Florida. However, they return to Lakeland each summer, maintaining a home there as well as in Florida.

MORRIS RABIN, '36
Service to Alma Mater

A GREAT deal of credit for the success of the Ohio University Alumni Association's reorganization on the West Coast must go to Newspaperman Morry Rabin.

As host and chairman of an alumni reunion in Long Beach last year, he coordinated plans for the largest OU alumni event ever held in the West. More than 200 persons attended the two-day affair.

However, his participation in alumni affairs dates back to a much earlier year than 1956. While working on newspapers in Ohio and California, he has served as president of the Akron alumni chapter, a member of the executive board of the Cleveland Bobcat Club, vice president and secretary of the Southern California chapter, and chairman of many alumni affairs.

Now on the editorial staff of the Long Beach Independent Press-Telegram, Mr. Rabin is a one man publicity department for OU in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Rabin have one son, Russell Bradley.

PETER FRANCIS GOOD, '26
Service to Alma Mater

FOR MANY years Peter Francis Good has been a leader in organizing and carrying out projects serving Ohio University and the city of Athens. A member of the national board of directors of the Alumni Association, he also has headed the Ohio University Fund drive in Athens many times and taken part in such special programs as the sesquicentennial scholarship fund drive.

President of The Lawhead Press, Inc., a large Athens printing company, Mr.

Good has been president of the Athens Board of Trade and president of the City Council. He is a former member of the national council of Phi Kappa Tau, past president and director of the Printing Industry of Ohio, and a member of Delta Sigma Pi, Phi Mu Alpha, Elks, Shrine, and Rotary. During World War II he was squadron commander of the Civil Air Patrol.

His two sons, John and Peter, are with him in the printing business.

DR. K. ALVIN MERENDINO, '36

Surgery

A PROFESSOR of surgery at the University of Washington since 1955. Dr. K. Alvin Merendino has distinguished himself as an educator, a practicing surgeon, and a leader in medical research.

After graduating summa cum laude from OU, Dr. Merendino received the M.D. at Yale University and the Ph.D. in surgery from the University of Minnesota. At the latter school he served on the faculty, being advanced to assistant professor when he received his degree. In addition he was head of a section in surgery at the Ancker Hospital in St. Paul and held a similar position at the University of Minnesota Hospital.

In 1949 he joined the faculty at the University of Washington in Seattle as an associate professor of surgery and director of the experimental surgical laboratory. He also holds positions at several hospitals.

HAZEL RIGBY MAST, '20

Service to Alma Mater

A TEACHER of science and history at East Liverpool High School for 22 years before her retirement, Hazel Rigby Mast has served Ohio University and the Alumni Association in many ways since her graduation.

She was one of the organizers and the first president of the Tri-State chapter of the Association and has served two terms on the alumni board of directors, as well as serving as an unofficial ambassador of Ohio University in East Liverpool.

As a student at Ohio University she was a charter member and president of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, active in YWCA work, and a member of the Philomathean Literary Society and several clubs. She also was active in girls' athletics.

In 1913 she was married to Earl L. Mast, also a former Ohio University student, who died in 1925. She has two sons, F. Rigby, now Columbiana County welfare director, and Earl, Jr., an engineer.

CARLOS M. RIECKER, '22

Jurisprudence

BORN ON a farm in Morgan County, Ohio, Carlos M. Riecker began his education in a one room country school, went on to careers in teaching and law, then returned to his native county where he has become one of the best known and respected judges in Ohio.

He taught school for seven years in Toledo after graduating from OU and worked toward an advanced degree at Toledo University. Passing the state Bar exam in 1929, he practiced law in that city for about two years, then worked with the Federal Department of Justice.

Returning to Morgan County in 1932, he served two terms as prosecuting attorney. In 1936 he was elected judge of the Common Pleas Court, and is now serving his fourth term in that office.

Judge and Mrs. Riecker were married in 1941. She is the former Teresa Torbert.

LAURANCE D. KELLER, '22

Service to Alma Mater

ALTHOUGH busy in professional and civic organizations in Columbus, Laurance D. Keller has a record of continuous alumni support and is presently serving on the national board of directors of the Alumni Association.

A member of the certified public accountants firm of Keller, Kirschner, Martin & Clinger, he has become a well known figure in his profession. He is a past president of the Columbus chapter of Certified Public Accountants and a member of the American Institute of Accountants.

He is a past vice president of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce and a member of that organization's board of directors, as well as a member of several civic clubs. For 15 years he also served as professor of accounting at Franklin University.

Mrs. Keller is the former Elma Dulaney, a 1920 graduate of OU. Their two daughters, Elaine Keller Simons and Shirley Keller Odebrecht, are also OU graduates.

Dean Myers Leaves

Dr. Clark E. Myers, dean of the College of Commerce since 1954, leaves Ohio University this month to become director of an international executive development program being organized in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Sponsored by IMEDE, a foundation created by Nestle Alimentana Company, the Management Development Institute which Dr. Myers will head is the first of its kind ever held on such a scale. A look at its financing, staff and program indicates its importance in world-wide business affairs.

Feeling the need for a constant improvement in the management methods of large enterprises throughout the world, the Nestle Company set out to finance a program which could best serve this need. Politics played no part in the search, and all economic systems were in competition to determine the type of program which would be set up.

Proof that executive training can be greatly accelerated through methodical teaching was to be found in business schools and various executive programs developed during recent years, particularly in the United States. It was this proof which led to the creation of the post graduate management training school being formed under the patronage of the University of Lausanne.

Dr. Myers, a graduate and former faculty member of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, was chosen as director. His background includes teaching, school administration, business and industry consultation, and the organization of executive development and school of banking programs at Ohio University.

Other staff members include three men from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration faculty, one from the Graduate School of Business and Public Administration of Cornell, one from the Stanford Graduate School of Business, and another who formerly taught at Harvard and more recently has been a professor at IPSOA, Turin, Italy.

Each professor will have two assistants specialized in the case method of instruction.

Participants in each of the eight-month sessions will be limited to between 40 and 60 representatives of business and industrial concerns from many countries.

Already the Institute and its new directors have received world-wide attention and it will be the center of wide interest when the first course gets underway this fall.

Acting Dean Named

Dr. Karl H. Krauskopf, a member of the faculty for 22 years, has been named acting dean of the College of Commerce, following the resignation of Dr. Myers.

Dr. Krauskopf joined the Ohio University faculty in 1935 as an instructor in advertising and was appointed a full professor in 1945. Before coming to the university he taught at Friends University in Wichita, Kansas; Northwestern University, the Chicago College of Commerce; and Ashland College.

A native of Maywood, Illinois, he holds bachelors and masters degrees from the University of Illinois and the doctorate from Northwestern.

Dr. Krauskopf has been a contributor to numerous publications in his field and has held various committee posts on the campus. Included in these have been the chairmanship of the Committee for the Encouragement of Scholarship, advisorship of the Cutler Society, and chairmanship on two occasions of the Faculty Advisory Council.

New Book Planned

Dr. Paul Kendall, whose book "Richard III" has received several national honors, has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship to continue study on Louis XI, 15th century French king whose biography the Ohio University professor is now writing.

Dr. Kendall leaves this month for England where he plans to do research for his new book. He will work there and in France until September, 1958, according to provisions of the grant.

Established in 1925, the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation awards grants designed to assist "persons of unusual capacity for scholarly research" to advance to higher levels of accomplishment in their fields.

Most of Dr. Kendall's research will entail study of 15th century manuscripts and documents in French libraries and archives. He estimates that it will require four years to finish the biography of the French king, a contemporary ruler of Richard III.

Scheduled for publication this month in England is another book by Dr. Kendall, "History of Land Warfare". Still another book, "Warwick the Kingmaker" will appear both in England and in the United States soon afterwards.

As before, Dr. Kendall is being accompanied by his wife and children to Europe. Mrs. Kendall is a writer of children's books, two of which are slated to be published soon.

PROFESSOR PATTERSON

Two Professors Retire

Two members of the Ohio University faculty retired at the close of the 1956-57 school year. They are Dr. J. R. Gentry, professor of psychology, and Ida M. Patterson, associate professor of home economics.

Dr. Gentry began his teaching career at Washington High School, Princess Anne, Maryland, after receiving the A. B. degree from the University of North Carolina in 1914. He continued as a high school teacher and later a principal until 1922, when he enrolled in the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Completing work for his masters degree two years later, he came to Ohio University in September of 1924 as an instructor in psychology. He was advanced to assistant professor in 1925, associate professor in 1940, and full professor in 1944.

Having worked toward a doctorate several summers and one full semester, Dr. Gentry received the degree from Columbia University in 1940.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa Society and co-author of "An Elementary Laboratory Manual in General Psychology".

A native of Preble County, Ohio, Miss Patterson received the B. S. degree in home economics from Ohio State University and the M. S. degree from the University of Chicago.

Before coming to Ohio University as an instructor in home economics in 1922, she taught at high schools in Summit County and Bucyrus, Ohio, and served for three years as a critic teacher for the Smith Hughes Vocational High School of Ohio State University.

Later Miss Patterson spent one year as head of teacher improvement in home economics for the state of Ohio. In addition she assisted with the organization and publication of the state course of study for home economics in the public schools.

In 1927 she was promoted to assistant professor of home economics and in 1945 she was named associate professor.

Miss Patterson is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma and an honorary member of Phi Upsilon Omicron. She has written articles on homemaking for "Practical Home Economics" magazine.

Faculty Promotions

Twenty-five faculty promotions were announced at the end of the 1956-57

PROFESSOR GENTRY

Inter-relation of Arts

A growing interest in the fine arts during the 20th Century was outlined by Dr. Earl C. Seigfred, dean of the College of Fine Arts, in the last of a series of 1956-57 faculty lectures.

Dr. Seigfred's lecture, "The Inter-relation of the Arts", was presented May 23 in the Speech Building Auditorium, and represented the fourth lecture of the 12th annual faculty series.

In pointing out the importance of fine arts in the world today, Dr. Seigfred explained how the objectivity of science must be supplemented by the subjectivity of art for a balanced outlook on life. He cited increased interest in plays, musical performances and museums in recent years, but expressed the belief that "the fine arts still lie outside the mainstream of our American life."

Dean of Fine Arts since coming to Ohio University in 1941, Dr. Seigfred previously headed the speech department at Mississippi State College for Women. He has also served as head of the drama department at Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas and visiting professor in the College of Fine Arts at Syracuse University.

Fellowship Received

A study fellowship from the National Science Foundation has been received by Dr. T. H. Curry of the chemistry department.

The nine-month grant will enable him to study advanced mathematics and nuclear and atomic physics, which he plans to do during the next three summers.

school year, two of them to the rank of full professor.

Dr. A. C. LaFollette of the department of dramatic art and speech, and Dr. Paul R. Murphy of the department of classical languages have been advanced from associate to full professorships.

Dr. LaFollette, who has been at Ohio University 13 years, was chairman of the departmental committee planning the establishment of the doctoral program in speech, announced in the April Alumnus.

A member of the faculty since 1947, Dr. Murphy is a member of the Graduate Council and Faculty Advisory Council. He has written extensively in the past few years for professional journals.

Members of the faculty promoted from assistant to associate professors are Dr. William H. Fiechthorn, finance; Lewis F. Hicks, mechanical engineering; Dr. Robert K. Ingham, chemistry; Dr. George R. Klare, psychology; Dr. Robert J. Kline, chemistry; Dr. Edward P. Lynn, education; Dr. Thomas H. Curry, chemical engineering; Dr. Burton W. DeVeau, agriculture; Dr. Willard H. Elsbree, government; Dr. Maxwell S. Pullen, psychology; and Dr. Robert S. Raymond, marketing.

Advanced from instructors to assistant professors are Merrill F. Aukland, geology and geography; Robert L. Bartels, physical education; Dr. Harrison Butterworth, English; Leighton Conklin, music; Mary L. Cowan, home economics; Dr. Taylor Culbert, English; Archie Greer, dramatic arts and speech; Willard B. Phelps, geology; Donald Roberts, design; Fred Schleicher, physical education; James T. Shipman, physics; and Dr. Harold R. Swardson, English. (Continued on Page 33)

Weekend for Mothers

Mrs. John B. Troja and her daughter Anita, a freshman, join in applause for Ohio University Band at concert under the elms. Mrs. Troja, the former Elizabeth Mortin, '32, arrived by train from her home in Darien, Connecticut, (above).

ONE OF the most pleasant weekends in the Ohio University student's busy year comes in May, when all activities are dedicated to visiting mothers.

Mother's Weekend, held this year on May 10, 11 and 12, attracted an estimated 2500 parents to the campus and easily lived up to its advanced billing of "presenting all phases of student life to mom."

Beginning with the annual Honors Day Convocation, in recognition of students attaining high scholarship goals, the program offered a variety of tours, classroom visitations, exhibits, concerts, open houses, and special sports events.

Torch Sing, traditional vocal competition event among fraternities and dormitories was presented in Memorial Auditorium, with Delta Tau Delta winning first place. Dolphin Club's water spectacular and an AFROTC parade and review highlighted a busy schedule on Saturday.

Following a concert by the Ohio University Band, under the elms on Saturday night, a dance was held in honor of the visiting mothers.

Singled out for special honors was Mrs. Otto C. Linn, Ohio University's honorary mother of the year. Mrs. Linn, whose home is in Crestline, Ohio, is the mother of six boys and five girls. Four of the sons have graduated from OU and the other two are students. They are Paul, '50; Robert, '50; James, '54; Thomas, '57; William, a junior; and Lawrence, a sophomore. Robert's wife, the former Anita Carlin, '50, is also a graduate of OU.

WATER SPECTACULAR at the Natatorium is presented for moms by Dalphin Club.

VISITING CLASS in chemistry, Mrs. Traja watches her daughter set up lab experiment.

TOUR OF CAMPUS gives mam a chance to see changes which are taking place. Here she and Anita inspect progress at Helen Mauck Galbreath Memorial Chapel.

AFTER WEEKEND of campus events, mather and daughter must say goodbye as car for train station awaits Mrs. Traja.

St. Louis

A spring meeting of the Ohio University Alumni Chapter of St. Louis was held May 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Konniker. Twenty-seven members attended the pot luck dinner affair.

By a unanimous vote of the group, an honor membership in the Alumni Association was established in the name of Dorothy Lawrey Vorhees, '37, who established the St. Louis chapter and was an active leader of the group until she moved to Kansas City recently.

Officers were then elected for the coming year. They are President Jack Fulton, '42; Vice President Will Konniker, '43; and Secretary Dick Paynter, '48.

Next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Galyon in October.

GUY TAYLOR, '51

Detroit

The Detroit alumni chapter has scored a "first" in establishing an honor membership in the name of the club. At a recent meeting the group voted to set up the honor membership.

Payment has been made, and the chapter becomes the first to be listed on the Honor Membership roll.

Cleveland Women

Members of the Ohio University Women's Club of Cleveland re-elected Gertrude Hudlett, '43, president at a luncheon May 7 in the home of Ruth Fowler Brown, '32. Other officers for the coming year are Vice President Ruth Hacker Millhoff, '47; Secretary

Alice Morton O'Shaughnessy, '44; and Treasurer Lillian Rusnak Disher, '42.

Plans were made to invite Ohio University students doing practice teaching in the Cleveland area to join the Women's Club, dues-free.

Franklin County

Alumni of Franklin County held their annual spring dinner meeting May 21 at the Grandview Inn in Columbus. Ohio University President John C. Baker was principal speaker of the evening.

Robert E. Holmes, '44, president of the chapter, welcomed members and guests and introduced Robert G. Jack, '49, who served as toastmaster. Mr. Jack in turn introduced Gordon K.

Bush, '24, publisher of the Athens Messenger and a member of the Ohio University board of trustees.

Mr. Bush, who serves as chairman of the board's planning, building, and land purchase committee, told of progress of the Helen Mauck Galbreath Memorial chapel and introduced John W. Galbreath, '20, who is donating the building to the university.

Mr. Galbreath then introduced President Baker who spoke on the future of Ohio University, the Ohio Commission on Education Beyond High School, and the encouraging outlook for teaching as a profession.

Others introduced were Alumni Secretary Marty Hecht; Charles Calhoun, president of the Franklin County Bobcat Club; and Shirley Keller Odebrecht, president of the women's club there. Mrs. Odebrecht announced plans for a June 22 meeting of the women at the Everglades in Columbus. Irma Anderson, assistant dean of women at OU, will be featured speaker of the affair, which will be a dessert party.

Robert Holmes was named to a second term as president of the chapter. Other officers for the coming year are Virginia Hoover Franklin, vice president; Mary McNaughter, secretary and Joan Galbreath Phillips, treasurer. Others named to the board of directors are Harold Wise, Phyllis Kitinoja Showe, Charles Calhoun, Shirley Keller Odebrecht, Robert Rucker, Natalie Bryan Bateman, Art Williams, and Delbert Nixon.

New York

Dick Linke, '41, was elected president of the New York Alumni chapter at a May 1 dinner-dance featuring the music of Sammy Kaye, '32, and his orchestra.

The meeting, held in the Hotel Roosevelt, was attended by some 180 club members and their guests. The services of the famous Swing and Sway orchestra were donated by Mr. Kaye.

One of the highlights of the dance was the orchestra's presentation of "So You Want to Lead a Band." First prize of a Columbia portable Hi-Fi phonograph and a Sammy Kaye Columbia album of "My Fair Lady" went to Tom Hanon, '47, of Plainfield, New Jersey. Other contestants received the Columbia LP of Kaye's "What Makes Sammy Swing."

Tri-State

The Tri-State Chapter of the Alumni Association held its spring meeting May 27 at the Travelers Hotel in East Liverpool. Cleveland Attorney George M. Brown was principal speaker.

Myron Eells, retiring chapter president, welcomed members to the dinner affair and served as toastmaster of the evening. He recognized members

Ralph Betts, chairman of the nominating committee presented a slate of new officers who were elected unanimously. They are Blake Boyd, president; Don Lowe, vice president; Dorothy Cosgrave Lynch, secretary; and Mary Wells North, treasurer.

Music for the spring affair was furnished by a girls' quartet and a baritone soloist from East Liverpool High School.

Northern California

Clark Williams, director of admissions at Ohio University, described changes on the campus at an April 26 meeting of the Northern California Alumni Chapter. The dinner affair was held in San Francisco's Hotel Claremont.

Hank Ivary, chapter president served as toastmaster and read several letters from members who regretted not being able to attend the annual dinner meeting.

A reception in the hotel preceded the program.

Youngstown Women

Olive Sheveman Hammond, '25 was installed as president of the Ohio University Women's Club of Youngstown April 27 at a meeting in the Golden Drumstick restaurant. Other new officers, installed by Gertrude Maier, '23, are Vice President Marian Wiles, '31; Secretary Catherine Toporcer Kulik, '32; and Historian Bertha Lawrence, '11.

Guest speaker at the luncheon meeting was Dr. Einar A. Hansen, OU professor of elementary education. Mrs. Hansen accompanied her husband to Youngstown.

Tri-City

Brandon T. Grover, assistant to the president of Ohio University, spoke on the university "Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow" at an April 30 dinner meeting of the Tri-City (Albany, Schenectady, Troy, N. Y.) alumni chapter. Seventeen members attended the affair at the Locomotive Club in Schenectady.

Richard Ingraham, '49, was toastmaster and John Stretch, '43, served as program chairman.

Mr. Stretch was elected president of the chapter for the coming year. Other new officers are Vice President Lowell Kindinger, '50; Secretary Phyllis Patterson Talley, '50; and Treasurer Kenneth E. Fritz, '46.

SALLY PETER GUBITZ, '53

Denver

Denver alumni met at the Cosmopolitan Hotel on April 24 for their annual spring dinner meeting. Speakers from the Ohio University campus were Clark E. Williams, director of admissions, and Robert E. Mahn, registrar.

During the business part of the meeting officers were elected for the coming year. They are Earl T. Watkins, '48, president, and Pauline Grigg Rucker, '46, secretary-treasurer.

Tentative plans were made for a family picnic to be held in August.

PAULINE GRIGG RUCKER, '46

Cleveland Men

Dr. Rush Elliott, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, spoke at a May 28 luncheon meeting of the Cleveland Bobcat Club. The meeting, held at the Manger Hotel, was the last in a series featuring talks by Ohio University deans.

Maynard Graft, who presided at the meeting, was re-elected president for the coming year. He will be assisted by Walter C. Duemer, vice president; Clarence Oberdoerster, secretary; and George Brown, re-elected treasurer.

Directors elected for three-year terms are Alan Riedel, John Saunders and Dave Whitacre. Those elected for two-year terms are Robert Hartford, Paul Crites, Henry Eccles, William Davis, Warren Hacker and Raymond Chenek.

Mansfield Women

Elizabeth Smart Frederick, '47, president of the club, served as toastmistress.

New officers of the club are Marjorie Wentz Dahlen, '47, president; Helen Urban Meeting, '52, recording secretary; Jo Ann Tompkins Channell, '47, corresponding secretary; and Emilie Smith Hutton, '52, treasurer.

Plans for a summer picnic were discussed briefly, although no definite date was set for the affair.

Akron

Gov. C. William O'Neill was featured speaker at the largest alumni meeting ever held in Akron May 11. The dinner meeting in Iacomini's Restaurant attracted nearly 175 members and guests.

D. Ben James, president of the Akron Area chapter served as toastmaster, introducing Governor O'Neill, President John C. Baker, and other guests, including President Norman Auburn of Akron University and Congressman William H. Ayres of the 14th District of Ohio.

Topic of the evening was current goals of higher education. Congressman Ayres spoke on the government's interest in university education and President Baker explained the workings of Ohio's Commission on Education Beyond High School, which he heads.

Governor O'Neill, who appointed the commission, told of the problems it faces and the legislative results which the state administration hopes to achieve through its studies.

George Mentzer was named president of the chapter for the coming year during the business session. His wife, the former Marianne Downey, was chosen secretary.

One of the highlights of the evening was the reading, by Mrs. James, of a proclamation made by the mayor of Akron, declaring May 11 "Ohio University Day" in the city.

Announcement was also made of the awarding of an annual Ohio University scholarship sponsored by the chapter.

Lima

The annual spring meeting of the Lima alumni chapter was held May 13 at the Alpine Village restaurant in that city. Twenty-one members attended the dinner which featured a talk by William R. Lee, '47, president of the Lima Newspaper Guild, described the strike against the Lima News, which was a major topic of interest to residence of the area, as well as the subject of national attention.

Dorothy Dippery Gardner, '39, received a vote of thanks for unusual table decorations which she prepared for the meeting.

The group then elected Dr. A. A. Dalton, '24, president for the coming year. He will be assisted by George C. Goodrich, '43, vice president; Mary Hamill Aldrich, '45, secretary; Raymond F. Roberts, '49, treasurer; and Jerry R. Galvin, '56, activities chairman. F. Stewart Elliott, '49, served as chairman of the nominating committee.

Guests at the meeting included Roger Johnson and Don Gossard. Lima High School students planning to enter Ohio University this fall.

Youngstown Mothers

Dr. Gaige B. Paulsen, dean of the University College, outlined the enrollment problem facing Ohio's state universities in an April 24 talk to members of the Ohio University Mothers Club of Youngstown.

The occasion was an annual "Dad's Night" dinner meeting at the Colony House. Approximately 40 members and their husbands attended.

Mrs. Harry Prigosin served as program chairman for the affair.

MRS. BEN ROME

Southern California

The annual spring meeting of the Southern California chapter attracted 155 persons to the Chapman Park Hotel in Los Angeles on April 27. Clark E. Williams, director of admissions at OU, gave the featured address of the evening, speaking on the present day campus and plans for the future.

William R. Blumenthal, '14, a past president of the chapter welcomed guests to the dinner dance and Jerre C. Blair, who was program chairman of the affair, served as toastmaster.

Dr. Stanley Dougan, '14, gave a report from the national alumni board of directors, of which he is a member. Other reports of the year's activities were given by the chapter officers, President William J. Manning, '39; Vice President Morry Rabin, '36; Secretary Don Maddock, '14; and Treasurer Edgar Shoemaker, '26.

Special thanks were extended to Gladys Carlson and Maurice Sheldon, '43, who helped Mr. Blair with arrangements for the meeting. They raised $115 for the chapter treasury by raffling off prizes donated by officers and some members of the board.

Jerre Baker and a vocal trio sang several songs, and Mrs. Blumenthal led the group in singing the Alma Mater.

Future plans call for a swimming party in August at the home of Jerre Blair in Arcadia.

Bobcat Roundup

By Rowland Congdon, '49

IMPROVEMENT over performances a year ago was shown by all four of Ohio University's spring sports teams in 1957. The improvement came in varying ways, however, for the squads.

For Kermit Blosser's golfers it was a return to the conference championship after a year's absence. Last year's third place finish was the first time they had not won the title in six years.

Next highest finish in league play for 1957 was by Bob Wren's baseball team with a second place. Though they won the title last season, the Bobcat nine improved both league and overall records this year.

The track team moved up a notch in this year's conference meet held at Kent State University. Stan Huntsman, in his first year as coach of the cindermen, finished third as against last year's fourth.

And Bob Bartels' tennis squad finished the season with a .500 record for dual meet competition, an improvement over last year's .300 percentage. The fourth place tie in the conference meet is nearly comparable to last year's undisputed fourth.

GOLF

At the spring sports banquet a year ago, Coach Blosser predicted that his golf team would return to the top spot "in the near future." Prior to the start of the 1957 season, however, he was not predicting that goal for this year's team.

He was nevertheless eyeing one of the finest groups of freshman boys he has ever assembled and looking toward the future.

But he was unable to foresee the hard work and determination which this year's group displayed during the season and in the conference meet.

Rapid improvement over the season of one particular player probably had as much as anything to do with returning to the top spot in the Mid-American Conference.

Having completed three spectacular seasons as a varsity basketballer, Canton's Don Siftt decided to try out for the golf team. He did and made the squad in time for the trip through the south. His continuous improvement was climaxed in the conference meet at Kent when he sparked the Bobcats to the title.

Siftt shot a 75 during the second 18-hole round over the Twin Lakes Country Club course to spark the four-man team to a one-stroke win over Marshall, 612 to 613. Siftt's final round score was the lowest of his teammates.

For the entire 36-hole match, however, Dayton's Dudley Kircher had a 151, Siftt 152, Fred Wilt of Findlay 153 and Don Todd of Dayton 156. The same foursome plus Carmen Lorubbio, Youngstown sophomore, and John Karsko, Columbus junior, plan to attend the NCAA tournament at the University of Colorado, June 23-29.

The season record was 12-7, not as good as last year's 17-4 mark. But that is all forgotten once the title is won.

BASEBALL

The baseball squad had one of its most perplexing seasons. They finished with a 20-5 record, including the last 14 wins in a row, and a 9-2 mark in the league for second place.

Both of these won-lost marks bettered those set by last year's league champions who finished with a 20-7 overall record and a 7-2 league reading.

Unfortunately, both league losses were to Western Michigan, 5-4, in 10 innings, and 10-5. In both games, OU had built up four-run leads early in the game only to have the Broncos rally and win. Western went on to cop the championship with a 7-0 league mark.

Following their loss to Xavier, 10-2, the Bobcats had a 6-5 record. From there on they were undefeated, bowling over Morris Harvey, Marshall, Bowling Green, Miami and Lockbourne Air Force Base twice, and gaining single decisions from Xavier, Toledo, Ohio Wesleyan and Dayton.

Leading hitter among the regulars was Myron Hutcherson, Columbus senior who played both shortstop and second base. He had a .357 average. Leading pitcher, with an 8-0 record, was Bill Hinkle, also a senior from Columbus. Best earned run average, however, was compiled by sophomore Mickey Urban, of those with more than 30 innings pitched. The lefthander from Seven Mile, Ohio, had a 2.2 ERA in 33- $\frac{1}{3}$  innings.

At the spring sports banquet closing the season, Infielders Frank Caruso, Cleveland, and Myron Stallsmith, Salem, were named co-captains for next year.

Three players were injured and forced to sit out the remainder of the season. They were Jim Bowen, Canton, third baseman; Nick Petroff, Canton outfielder, and Pete Kares, Lakewood outfielder.

Following the season, three players were signed to Cincinnati Redleg contracts and assigned for summer play at Savannah, Class A South Atlantic League farm club of the Reds. The trio is Bill Tewksbury, catcher from Albany, Ohio; Scotty Griesheimer, Chillicothe outfielder, and Fred Lowe, pitcher from Grantsville, W. Va.

TRACK

Stan Huntsman led the track squad to a 6-1 dual meet season, better than last year's 4-4 mark. The third place finish in the conference meet was also the highest for several years.

Also for the first time in several years, OU participants set conference records.

The mile relay team of Harold Buehert, Les Carney, Bill Edwards and Bob Sawyers recorded time of 3:19.9 to establish a new mark while Sawyers also broke the mark in the 880-Yard Run with a time of 1:54.1.

Sawyers is the only senior of the group and one of only four seniors on the whole squad. He hails from Cleveland. Buehert is a junior from Picketon, Carney a sophomore from Wintersville and Edwards a sophomore from Cincinnati.

Fifteen sophomores were on the varsity giving a good nucleus for next year. Only dual meet defeat came at the hands of Miami. Wins were over Ohio Wesleyan, Central State, Denison, Bowling Green, Kent State and Baldwin-Wallace.

TENNIS

Bill McConahey, Massillon sophomore, was the only OU tennis player to reach the finals in the conference meet where the Bobcats compiled three points for their fourth place tie with Bowling Green.

TRACK SQUAD, winners of six of seven dual matches, are, front row, 1 to r, Manager Jim Wheeler, Bob Strothers, Hal Buchert, Bill Edwards, Keith Welch, Aljah Butcher, Glenn Randall, Bill Evans, Wally Guenther, Fred Dickey, Jim Hall, Tom Callow and Larry Orosz. In

For and Against

AN ATHLETE who began his wrestling career by winning matches for Ohio University has become the chief rival of his alma mater, and this year engineered the first conference mat defeat for OU in three years.

Joe Begala, one of the all-time greats in Bobcat history, has become the most colorful figure ever to grace the athletic halls of Kent State University.

Not only has he compiled a record of 200 victories against 31 losses as Kent's wrestling coach but he also has served as football coach (1933-34) and line coach, organized and coached tennis, golf and track, and served as athletic director.

It was his wrestling teams which put Kent on the collegiate sports map, however, and this year his squad went undefeated in dual competition. The only mar on the 1956-57 record was, ironically, Ohio University's come-back win of the Mid-American Conference championship after its regular season loss to Kent.

Begala, who claims he will quit coaching when one of his athletes is able to pin him, actually got his coaching start by defeating the team he directs. In Begala's senior year at Ohio University (1929) three Kent wrestlers were among the 11 men he pinned in dual competition. The next year he was offered the coaching position at Kent.

JOE BEGALA, '29

As a Bobcat wrestler under the tutelage of Thor Olson he was All Ohio champion in the 165-pound class. Once he defeated both the 175-pound and heavyweight wrestlers in a match against Purdue, provoking a rule, which still exists, preventing a participant from competing in more than one division. He also made All Buckeye Athletic Conference and All Ohio as a guard in football that year.

Not many athletes carve niches in the histories of two rival universities. That honor is reserved for men like Joe Begala of OU and Kent.

DARRELL A. GROVE, president of Realty Investments, Inc., Pittsburgh, represented Ohio University at the inauguration of Dr. Edward H. Litchfield as twelfth chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh last month. Mr. Grove is a member of the national board of directors of the Ohio University Alumni Association.

MERL O. REED has been principal of Central Junior High School in Lima for the past two years. Mrs. Reed, the former Martha McAuley, '29, teaches in the third grade.

NOLAN SWACKHAMMER'S Middleport baseball team captured the 1957 state championship of Ohio after a brilliant undefeated season. It was the second time he had coached a state champion, having been mentor of the 1941 Glenford basketball team which defeated Hicksville in the semi finals and went on to win the crown. His 1957 Middleport baseball team also won the Southeastern Ohio Athletic League title.

Both were taken to a Kenton hospital where they were kept for nearly a month before being released.

Concerto for Two Voices

SHIRLEY SEIGFRED, '52

A FASCINATINGLY different style of writing is revealed in a new novel, "Concerto for Two Voices", by Shirley Seigfred, '52. Written in a unique combination of prose and blank verse, the novel follows the pattern of a symphony concert while describing a tragic relationship between a boy and a girl. In her first novel, Miss Seigfred shows an unusual talent for vivid description, both of the heroine's inner feelings and the details of her environment. Miss Seigfred, who is employed as proofreader for The Lawhead Press in Athens, spent a year and a half in England, the setting of her novel, which is published by Exposition Press Inc., New York. She is currently working on her second novel.

LT. CHARLES Z. SERPAN, JR. recently graduated from the Quartermasters Officer Basic Course and expects to be sent to France this month. He is engaged to Rebecca Johnson, an OU student.

Deaths

JOSHUA R. MORTON, '05, professor emeritus of Ohio University, died April 25, following an illness of three years. A member of the Ohio University faculty from 1910 until his retirement in 1948, he taught at Wilkesville and Zanesville High Schools before returning to his alma mater as an instructor in chemistry. He became a full professor in 1917 and was named head of the Chemistry Department in 1936. A recognized authority in his field, Professor Morton was co-author of a textbook which was adopted by more than 70 colleges and universities in the country. During World War II he assisted in carrying out secret research work for the United States Research Council. Surviving are his wife, Nellie, three daughters, and a granddaughter.

MRS. DAVID E. JONES (HELEN HUDSON, '20) died October 31, 1956. She had moved from Columbus to California in 1954, and was in Los Angeles at the time of her death.

EDWIN F. SHEARMAN, '35, died May 1 at his home in Delaware, Ohio, after an extended illness. He was president of the Ed Shearman Motors, a Lincoln-Mercury dealership which he organized in 1951. Prior to that he was manager of Portsmouth Motors and comptroller of the Brush Division of the Owens-Illinois Glass Company, Toledo. Surviving are his wife, the former

A University's Size

TO GET a University's size into perspective we must know its number of full-time students and its grand total number of students, and compare these with the figures of other colleges with which we are familiar. The Walters Report which is published each December in School and Society helps us with this.

Ohio University's number of full-time students in the fall was 7057, 6721 of whom were on campus, and the remainder in the Branches. Here are the other institutions in the 6000 to 8000 bracket: Florida State 6213; Kent State 6232; Oregon State 6717; Rutgers 6954; U. of Alabama 7613; U. of Arizona 6559; U. of Cincinnati 6246; U. of Houston 6140; U. of Kansas 7778; U. of Kentucky 6544; U. of North Carolina 6971; U. of Utah 7856; Stanford 7446; St. Louis 7064; Yale 7157; Texas A. & M. 6860; Kansas State 6313; M. I. T. 6000; and Texas Tech. 7619. Considerably below us in the 5000 to 6000 bracket are the following: Miami 5310; Southern Illinois 5442; State C. of

Washington 5100; U. of Arkansas 5018; U. of Georgia 5817; U. of Tennessee 5974; West Virginia U. 5454; Boston College 5844; Duke 5103; Buffalo 5005; Chicago 5463; Notre Dame 5851; San Francisco State 5575; Georgia Tech. 5422; North Carolina State 5204; Northeastern 5450; and Western Michigan 5262.

And now, using the grand total figure of 10,485, which for Ohio University includes full-time students plus part-time students receiving instruction on campus and in the Branches, and through the Extension Division, and using a 9000 to 11,000 bracket, we find listed with us the following: Florida State 9380; Iowa State 9673; Louisiana State 10,327; State U. of Iowa 10,226; U. of Colorado 10,554; U. of Connecticut 10,250; U. of Georgia 9375; U. of Nebraska 9986; U. of Utah 9256; Brigham Young U. 9284; Cornell 10,936; George Washington 9550; Marquette 9750; St. Louis U. 9706; Detroit 9624; U. of Miami (Fla.) 11,130; and Oklahoma A. & M. 9328.

Eleanor Elliott, '35, two daughters, a brother and a sister.

ANDREW R. MANDULA, '31, guidance counselor at Thomas A. Edison Occupational School in Cleveland, died April 26 after a long illness. Formerly with the recreation division of the Board of Education in that city, he handled public relations for the Knights of Columbus track meet for three years. Surviving are his wife, Ruth, twin daughters, his mother, three brothers, and a sister.

DONALD W. DAWSON, '27, sales manager of the American Welding & Manufacturing Company, died suddenly at his home in Warren, Ohio, in February.

LEILA MAUDE NORRIS, '20, a retired school teacher, died March 15 at Canal Lewisville, where she had lived for the past two years. A teacher in Ohio schools for 41 years, she was active in many civic and professional organizations including the Ohio Education Association. Surviving are two brothers and four sisters.

LAWRENCE T. COMER, '43, executive head of Lucasville, Ohio, schools, died May 10 in Mercy Hospital, Portsmouth. He had been seriously ill since March. A teacher and school administrator since 1929, Mr. Comer also was a member of the Council for Retarded Children in Scioto County and served on the council's advisory committee. He is survived by his wife, three children, his mother and stepfather.

MRS. EVELYN GOEGLEIN, '52, a school teacher for many years in Meigs County, Ohio, died May 21 in Rock Springs. She is survived by her husband, a son, two grandchildren, a sister and a brother.

CLINTON B. STEWART, '24, a teacher in the Cincinnati public schools for 33 years, died May 27 in Good Samaritan Hospital there. He taught mathematics for 31 years at Rothenberg Junior High School and for two years at Cutter Junior High School. Surviving are a sister and a brother.

Notices have been received in the Alumni Office of the deaths of STELLA VAN DYKE JOHNSON, '13; CARL J. PRESCHER, '46; and CECIL W. HANDLEY, '20.

Atomic power in Caesar's day?

Certainly!

It was there, in the ground, in the air and water. It always had been. There are no more "raw materials" today than there were when Rome ruled the world.

The only thing new is knowledge . . . knowledge of how to get at and rearrange raw materials. Every invention of modern times was "available" to Rameses, Caesar, Charlemagne.

In this sense, then, we have available today in existing raw materials the inventions that can make our lives longer, happier, and inconceivably easier. We need only knowledge to bring them into reality.

Could there possibly be a better argument for the strengthening of our sources of knowledge—our colleges and universities? Can we possibly deny that the welfare, progress—indeed the very fate—of our nation depends on the quality of knowledge generated and transmitted by these institutions of higher learning?

It is almost unbelievable that a society such as ours, which has profited so vastly from an accelerated accumulation of knowledge, should allow anything to threaten the wellsprings of our learning.

Yet this is the case

The crisis that confronts our colleges today threatens to weaken seriously their ability to produce the kind of graduates who can assimilate and carry forward our rich heritage of learning.

The crisis is composed of several elements: a salary scale that is driving away from teaching the kind of mind most qualified to teach; overcrowded classrooms; and a mounting pressure for enrollment that will double by 1967.

In a very real sense our personal and national progress depends on our colleges. They must have our aid.

Help the colleges or universities of your choice. Help them plan for stronger faculties and expansion. The returns will be greater than you think.

If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.
